1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9/24/09 has been entered.
2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a method of acquiring a signal using local control of the receiver including evaluating a validity of assistance data using an estimate of a previously obtained clock bias, a lapsed time and an amount of clock frequency error, classified in class 455, subclass 255.
 - II. Claims 15-23, drawn to a method of acquiring a signal by calculating updated acquisition data and setting a code phase window size, classified in class 342, subclass 357.15.
 - III. Claims 24-33, drawn to a method of acquiring a signal including determining movement in excess of a threshold and compensating acquisition data in response to the movement, classified in class 455, subclass 441.
 - IV. Claims 34-38, drawn to a method of determining changes in location based on lists of base stations to evaluate previously obtained acquisition data, classified in class 455, subclass 456.6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Invention I does not require the calculation of updated data by setting a code phase window size of Invention II; does not require the determination of motion in excess of a threshold to compensate the acquisition data of Invention III; and does not require the determination of change in location based on lists of base stations of Invention IV.

Invention II does not require the determination of motion in excess of a threshold to compensate the acquisition data of Invention III; and, does not require the determination of change in location based on lists of base stations of Invention IV.

Invention III does not require the determination of change in location based on lists of base stations of Invention IV.

3. The related inventions are distinct if: (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a materially different mode of operation and function, as set forth above, and do not overlap in scope, as set forth above. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

4. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 9/24/09 is acknowledged. It is unclear why the applicant has re-submitted these documents since they are on record in the prosecution history. Each was submitted as part of the 371 papers 10/25/05. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Gregory C. Issing whose telephone number is (571)-272-6973. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Thursday 6:00 AM- 4:30 PM.

8. If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Thomas Tarcza can be reached on (571)-272-6979. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
